

Changes to the Australian Government Private Health Insurance Rebate and your premium

As you will be aware the government subsidises your health insurance costs with a rebate (called the Australian Government Private Health Insurance Rebate) through either a premium reduction or as a lump sum as part of your tax return.

The amount of the rebate you can receive still depends on your age and income BUT from 1 April 2014, the rebate will be indexed each year by the difference between CPI and the industry average increase in premiums, using a Government calculated formula. This will result in 96.8% of your premium paid (excluding Lifetime Health Cover loadings) attracting a rebate.

You can visit the Department of Health's website for more information www.health.gov.au/internet/main/publishing.nsf/Content/phi-rebate&medicarelevy-surcharge

From the Manager... Jody says

It's now easier to belong!
The key is 'the employee'
(past or present) of SDA
Church Companies in Australia.
If you are or were 'the employee' (it doesn't matter if you are an ACA Health member or not) now your children, grandchildren, parents, siblings and their dependent children can join.
'ACA Health is the only church run fund in Australia and was set up by the church more than 40 years ago because we value our employees and their families.
Expanding ACA Health's eligibility gives our employees the comfort of knowing that the health and wellbeing of their family is cared for.' Mr David Potter - General

Adventist Church and Chairperson

Why does my premium rise each year?

Excerpt taken from 'Private health cover: a premium struggle to obtain peace of mind' by Jessica Gardner (The Saturday Age - Melbourne)

At its simplest there are three main drivers of increasing healthcare costs. The first is, demographically Australia has a larger and older population than ever. A straight line links a larger population with increased demand for healthcare, and the reason that age is important is that people need more healthcare in the later years of life.

Second, an increase in the incidence of chronic conditions such as obesity, heart disease and diabetes compound health bills. These diseases don't kill you immediately, but are expensive to manage and lead to a raft of health complications.

Thirdly, improved technology, although it has led to better health outcomes, also adds to cost.

ACA Health is not-for-profit company and prices rise to secure member benefits for the future.

Allergy Management Benefits

Complete Ancillary cover pays benefits on allergy testing and membership to medic alert (or equivalent) including tags/bracelets (when ordered and performed by a registered practitioner). Benefits are also paid on EpiPens for allergies with a letter from your GP.

Farewell Rebekah, Welcome Lisa!

In December we said goodbye to Rebekah who has accepted a job with the Children's Ministries Department at the SPD. We wish her all the best with her new role. We would also like to welcome Lisa to our Customer Service Team who comes with a medical claims and healthcare background.

Don't forget the kids!

It's that time of year again when your kids have finished studying and are beginning work. Please make sure, if your child is over 21 years old, that you let us know their study/work situation as this can affect your premium.

- If your child is over 21 and still studying full time you will need to send in the Student Declaration form as soon as possible to confirm that they are still eligible to stay on your cover at no extra cost. You can download this form from our website www.acahealth.com.au

Download forms and brochures or we can send you this form upon request.

- If your child is over 21 and not studying full time you have two options depending on the cover you have. If you have combined Deluxe or Private Hospital plus an ancillary cover you will be able to take out the Dependant Extension Option (30% extra on top of your premium - this can be cheaper than them taking out their own cover). If you do not have this cover or prefer them to take out their own please let us know and we can get them started on their own cover.

Also if your child is moving for study - they may need a separate card, give us a call to order one for them.

- If your child is turning 25 please be aware once they do they are no longer eligible to remain on your membership no matter what cover you have. They will need to take out their own cover. If they start from the date they turned 25 with the same or lower level of cover they will not need to re-serve waits, simply call us for more information.
